

Kennedy Completes 'New Frontier' Cabinet

Day Is His Final Selection

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) President-elect John F. Kennedy today named California insurance executive J. Edward Day as his postmaster general, completing his "new frontiers" cabinet.

Day, a one-time associate of Adlai E. Stevenson, flew to Palm Beach with Kennedy Friday night and appeared with the President-elect late this morning in a joint news conference at which the announcement was made.

KENNEDY ALSO announced the appointment of W. H. Brawley, chief clerk of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, as deputy postmaster general.

Kennedy made the announcement on the patio of his Ocean Boulevard villa, standing beside the white-haired Day.

KENNEDY SAID that in his selection of Day political considerations were "secondary." He said he selected the California executive primarily for his record in the Illinois state government with Stevenson, and the "vigor and competence" he displayed in private business.

Day said the principal role of the Post Office Department under his direction would be "ever increasing efficiency and economy."

"Every effort will be made to make the Post Office Department self-supporting," he said.

DAY, HOWEVER, declined to discuss his views on increasing the first class postal rate, saying that such questions must await further planning within the new administration and talks with outgoing Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Day, who will return to California tonight, said he expected to confer with Summerfield in Washington early next year. "We are looking forward to a cooperative and healthful changeover," he added.

OTHER NEWS developments in Kennedy's meeting with reporters:

He expects to name Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Democratic national committeewoman from California, as the new treasurer of the United States, succeeding Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest. Mrs. Smith's home is in Kentfield, Calif.

Kennedy plans to hold a meeting of his new cabinet prior to the inauguration, possibly just after the first of the year.

Said he had not set a date for his own resignation from the Senate. This is expected before the first of the year.

DAY WAS A member of the California state delegation at the Democratic National Convention last summer and supported Kennedy for the nomination.

Neal Machan Killed in Indio Crash Friday

INDIO — Neal Edward Machan, 24-year-old Riverside County employee who lived at 1311 Camino Anapola in Palm Springs, died at about 9:30 p.m., last night, when his car went out of control on Calhoun here, sheering off power poles and hurling Machan from it.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Machan assumed to be driving at a high rate of speed, failed to make a boulevard stop at Avenue 50. The car thereupon hit a dip and a curve, left the road, careened off one power pole and sheered off another. The car came to rest 500 feet south of Avenue 50 and Machan's body was found 90 feet from the vehicle.

AIR FORCE PLANE CRASHES INTO STREETCAR IN MUNICH, 70 KILLED

HELPING HANDS IN VAIN

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD Stephen Baltz of Chicago, Ill., lies in a snowbank after being thrown clear of the United Airlines plane which crashed following an air collision yesterday. After having been given a chance to live, the boy died this afternoon. His father, industrialist W. S. Baltz made the announcement to newsmen this morning. "Well, our Stevie passed away at about 1 p.m. Naturally, his mother and I are tremendously saddened. But we have had so many fine people in the world send sympathy and prayers, and we want to thank you for them. Stevie tried awfully hard because my son was a wonderful boy, not because he was my son, but because 'he was Stevie.' (Copyrighted 1960 New York Journal American from United Press Telephoto).

Intensive Hunt Started After Armed Robbery

INDIO — An all-points bulletin was broadcast shortly after midnight last night for a neatly-dressed gunman and a female accomplice who robbed Diamond's Liquor Store, at 45-363 Jackson Street, of about $200 in cash. The pair entered the store shortly after midnight, confronted clerk Mildred Poole with the gun and demanded the money. She complied.

Jetliner Blows Tires on Landing

NEW YORK — A Panagra Airlines DC8 jetliner like the one involved in a collision Friday blew two tires on landing at Idlewild Airport today but the 102 passengers aboard escaped injury.

DEATH TAKES BOY, CRASH SURVIVOR

From UPI Wires
The Christmas dinner that Stephen Baltz was planning to enjoy with his family will go uneaten. The 11-year-old single survivor of Friday's airline collision over New York City died at about 1 p.m. today, in Methodist Hospital.

THE DEATH OF STEPHEN, the 136th person to die as a result of the nation's worst aviation disaster, came unexpectedly since hospital officials had earlier given the boy a "good chance" to live.

The boy had watched the snow swirling over New York City from the window of the big plane taking him to a family yulet reunion. Minutes later, he was lying burned and broken in a snow bank on a Brooklyn street. The flames from the hulk of the airliner burning nearby lighted his dazed and bleeding face. Stephen taken to the hospital apparently spent a good night. He received plasma several times and officials noted that he had "been talking."

Residents Respond to Club Appeal

First Christmas Club Plea Made For Orphanage

Area residents began to respond today to the first Palm Springs Christmas Club plea for funds for food and clothing for the children of the House of Hope orphanage near Tijuana.

This morning, cash donations were brought into The Desert Sun-KDES offices, co-sponsors of the Christmas Club with Jacqueline, who donated nearly 300 toys for distribution to the orphans and to needy youngsters in the Palm Springs area.

JACK AUERBACH, president of the Palm Springs B'nai B'rith lodge, phoned a cash pledge for his group to help provide for the children in the independent orphanage.

Mrs. M. W. Addes told The Desert Sun that milk for the children comes from a continuing donation made last spring by Palm Springs resident Milton Prell, but that other food items are a major need.

SHE CITED SHOES and underclothes as other current requirements for the children cared for in the orphanage started by Senor and Senora Robert Bringas when they opened their home to the abandoned and often sick toddlers and school-age children in their area. There are 44 children in the well-scrubbed House of Hope now. The youngsters, caught in the glowing excitement of Christmas, are making little favors for one another, and working diligently to improve their Christmas tree. The tree—a sprawling umbrella tree—is festooned with paper decorations the children have fashioned from their precious store of simple supplies.

THE PALM SPRINGS Christmas Club drive for shoes, underclothes, canned and dried food, sugar, honey, fruits, potatoes and other staple goods continues through late Tuesday afternoon. The gifts will be taken to Tijuana Wednesday. Donations may be made at The Desert Sun, 174 North Palm Canyon Drive, or adjacent KDES. Gifts in kind, cash, or check are welcomed. Money contributions will be accepted here, and by the House of Hope.

GEORGE GANNON

George Gannon Succumbs Friday At Los Angeles

George Gannon, 48, resident here for 25 years and active in civic and real estate affairs, succumbed at 9 p.m., Friday at Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles.

He headed the Gannon Realty Company, which he established in 1930 and was a member of the Palm Springs Planning Commission.

BORN IN NORTH DAKOTA, he came here with his father, Judge George Matthew Gannon in 1934. During World War II he served in the U. S. Navy, leaving the service as a chief petty officer. Upon his return to Palm Springs he joined the Ransom real estate office, and then established his own in 1950.

He also was a member of the Elks, American Legion and Lions Club here.

SURVIVORS INCLUDE his widow, Kay Noble Gannon; one son, George Matthew Gannon, 8; one daughter, Mrs. Stephen Newnham III of Philadelphia; one brother, Admiral John Gannon; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Meriwether and Mrs. Josephine Grogan of San Marino, and his step-mother, Mrs. Estelle Gannon of Los Angeles and Palm Springs.

Funeral mass has been tentatively set for 9:30 a.m., Monday, at St. Theresa Catholic Church, with Father Michael O'Donohue in charge. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m., Sunday, at Wiefels and Son Chapel. Interment will be in Desert Memorial Park.

Selassie Returns To Addis Ababa

LONDON — The Ethiopian embassy announced today that Emperor Haile Selassie had returned to Addis Ababa where his loyal troops crushed a palace rebellion against his 30-year rule.

"We have received a message from the superintendent of our government's cable wireless office in Addis Ababa that the emperor arrived there at 1400 GMT today (9 a.m. est), an embassy spokesman said. "That is all the information we have."

BLOOD BANK VISIT SET FOR MONDAY

December visit of the Riverside-San Bernardino two county Blood Bank at Desert Hospital will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Monday. Administrator Robert Henwood reminded Desert area residents today. The regular quota is 25 pints of blood.

Second Tragedy Within 24 Hours

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—A U.S. Air Force plane carrying American students to England for Christmas hit a towering church spire today and crashed into a packed streetcar in the heart of Munich, killing 60 to 70 persons.

Munich police said 20 persons aboard the plane were killed outright, 13 students and 7 crewmen. An estimated 35 persons were burned to death aboard the streetcar when it was engulfed in gasoline. Another 10 to 15 pedestrians were killed but the area was so littered with bodies an exact count was delayed.

THE PLANE, EN route to Northolt, faltered after takeoff from Munich's principal airport in a heavy fog and crashed barely four minutes later. The pilot radioed he was in trouble. As he fought for control the plane sheared off the cross of a cathedral spire and fell into the street below.

It was the second major air disaster in 24 hours. Friday two airliners collided in a storm over New York City, killing at least 135 persons as the two planes fell in flames in Brooklyn and Staten Island.

TODAY'S CRASH was the first major air disaster in which the victims on the ground outnumbered those aboard the plane.

Mrs. Johanna Starkmeyer, a Munich housewife who was watching the flow of busy and happy Christmas shoppers from her window said the "air was filled with a terrifying roar, followed by loud clattering on the roof of my house."

"We all dashed down for the street because we thought the house was coming down on us," she said. "We had hardly reached the street when a tremendous explosion defenestrated us, a wave of hot air hit us and dense smoke was all over."

"I WAS LEANING against the walls of a house, my face blackened, tears rolling over my cheeks. I saw a streetcar covered by flames, human bodies lighted like torches falling out of it, rolling over the ground."

The doomed plane was sent from England Friday to take the students home from their school, the Munich branch of the University of Maryland, where last minute going-away parties were held Friday night as the young people prepared to join their families all over Europe, the Middle East and North Africa. Today the school was plunged into mourning.

The Rev. Walter R. Reuning, pastor of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, will officiate at the ceremony.

IN THIRD GRADE

Pupil May Sell Land for School

Bright-eyed Rosanna Saubel, an eight-year-old third grade pupil in Cahulla School here, may sell the Palm Springs Unified School District a ten-acre site for a new school here.

Rosanna's transactions are by her legal agent. The little school girl holds the site on unimproved Francis Drive as part of her allotment of Indian-owned lands here.

THE DISTRICT board of education has approved transfer of $90,000 from surplus allocation to the site project. The sum is for land purchase price and acquisition costs.

Jack Miles, district business manager, told The Desert Sun the proposed site is approximately 10 acres, on the south side of Francis Street east of Starr Road, west of McCann Road. The site was selection on population trend maps.

PRICE DETERMINATION will be made by an appraiser acceptable to both parties.

Site acquisition of the Section 11 site for a second junior high school is in progress. Site and price in the Vista Chino, Avenida Caballeros area is not specifically determined.

Bus, Retarded Plans Given Board Stall

School Board Set To Discuss Both Matters Thursday

The Palm Springs Unified School District board Thursday evening delayed the meeting this coming Thursday the appointment of citizens' advisory committees to review district bus needs, and study of a proposed optional school program for severely mentally retarded children.

The bus specifications were opened for review by the board this spring when bids were submitted on for new school buses.

AT LEAST TWO Palm Springs dealers told the board that the specifications were non-competitive because they duplicated specifications of two manufacturers whose products were subsequently purchased.

The two dealer spokesmen maintained that while large buses are needed for long-hauls, the remainder does not require the expense of the heavy Mack and Crown coach equipment the district now uses exclusively.

THE RETARDED PROGRAM was asked by the Palm Springs Foundation for Mentally Retarded Children, which is planning a private program, which would not include classroom teaching under the state's optional program.

Dr. Dwight Twist, superintendent of the district, told the board members that recommendations and discussions should be in personnel session.

Council Denies Scooter Sales

An application for Lee Stewart to operate Hollywood Motor Scooter Sales and Rental Service on Palm Canyon Drive, was denied by the City Council last night, but the door was left open for the possible operation of a sales and service business.

The council, on hearing testimony from nearby residents in the audience, acted against the application because of the noise and safety factor.

RIGHT NAME BUT WRONG KENNEDY

LONDON — Mrs. Ellen Kennedy Starns, Conn., wife of a U.S. government physicist working in Mexico, was amused by the red-carpet welcome she and her four children got here today.

Gold-brained officials whisked the Kennedys through customs and immigration and settled them in a "V.I.P." lounge to wait for their flight to Italy.

The name "Kennedy" explained it all. Officials here had had a radio message warning them to expect President-elect John F. Kennedy's sister-in-law.

"What . . . me?" Mrs. Kennedy said. "Certainly not. I didn't even vote for him."

Jewish Leaders Hail Kennedy Selection of Pair

WASHINGTON — President-elect John F. Kennedy's appointment of a second Jew to his cabinet was hailed by Jewish leaders yesterday as an emphatic repudiation of anti-Semitism in public life.

The choice of Arthur J. Goldberg, son of a poor Jewish family from Chicago's West Side, to be labor secretary brought to five the number of Jews who have been appointed to cabinet posts, according to the Universal Jewish Encyclopedia.

CONNECTICUT GOV. Abraham Ribicoff, also a Jew, earlier was named secretary of health, education and welfare in the Kennedy cabinet.

Rabbi Norman Gerstenfeld of the Washington Reform Congregation said Goldberg's appointment Thursday was "further repudiation of historic anti-Semitism which is a source of infection for all society."

"It is a complete witness of American belief that religion is a private matter."

ANOTHER JEWISH leader said the appointment "indicates anti-Semitism is absolutely not respectable any more."

The first Jewish cabinet member was Oscar Straus, Theodore Roosevelt's secretary of labor and commerce.

Henry Morgenthau Jr. served as Franklin D. Roosevelt's treasury secretary from 1933 to 1945.

Louis Brandeis, longtime chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was nominated for commerce secretary by President Eisenhower in October of 1953 and served as an interim cabinet member. But the Senate rejected the appointment the next year.

The gain leap is the fastest growing point on earth.

JET COLLISION BROUGHT TERROR

NEW YORK — Into a quiet, snow-flecked morning in a once-famous brownstone residential section of the borough of Brooklyn, a flaming ball dropped from gray skies onto a street corner.

People were walking gingerly on the slippery, slushy sidewalks, wary of the huge piles of dirtying snow left there earlier in the week by street department plows. The new snow falling at mid-morning yesterday added to the quiet that resulted from reduced traffic.

THEN A RENDING explosion shook the intersection of 7th Avenue and Sterling Place. A huge, whirling ball of fire ascended over one of Brooklyn's oldest neighborhoods.

The neighborhood now is mostly old buildings. Some of the old families are hanging on. Negro families have moved in, and it is a racially mixed area, near the open sprawl of Prospect Park.

By noon that intersection had become a scene of wild confusion, flames, smoke, disintegrated airplane parts, and police and firemen trying to work their way into a pile of wreckage. That pile once was a United Air Lines DC 8 jetliner.

FOUR-STORY BUILDINGS on both sides of Sterling Place were a mass of flame. At least eight buildings were involved. Also wiped out by the flames was a church on Sterling Place.

The intersection was a mass of rubble. Although an appreciable house was blowing, heavy black smoke covering several blocks made visibility very bad in the crash area. At times, when the wind shifted, part of an airplane could be seen. On it were painted the letters "United."

The entire tail section was snapped off and lying upside down in the middle of the intersection. The tip of the tail touched the engine compartment of a truck. The truck had been rented by Roy Rothberg, who was at the wheel. He escaped without a scratch.

"This thing has left me just numb," he said.

Council Accepts Park Resignation Of Mrs. Hardy

Mrs. Ruth Hardy, for 12 years a member of Palm Springs City Council, and for an equal length of time a member of the Park and Recreation Board, has resigned from the latter because of the pressure of her own business.

The City Council was hesitant in accepting her resignation — and after doing so with deep regret — proceeded to appoint her as an honorary member of the Park and Recreation Board, to attend meetings whenever she desired to do so.

Appropriate plaques will be presented to Mrs. Hardy in appreciation of her past services to the community.

AUTOMATION BIG PROBLEM TO JFK

WASHINGTON — Mr. President-elect John F. Kennedy was reported to feel that unemployment caused by the elimination of jobs due to automation is "one of the biggest problems" the country must solve.

Kennedy's views were relayed to newsmen by Rep. Elmer J. Holland, D-Pa., after he paid a call on Kennedy Thursday to discuss "the impact of automation on unemployment."

Holland showed Kennedy still incomplete results of a study he is making of the number of workers displaced by automation. The congressman is conducting the survey to bolster support for his proposal to set up a presidential commission to help deal with the problem.

Kennedy asked Holland to submit a report on the study when it is completed.

AGC PREXY DELIVERS REPORT:

Building Pace Will Continue High

Construction in Southern California should continue at its present high level through the first half of 1961, according to Warren Driver, president of the Southern California Chapter of Associated General Contractors.

In his annual report to 600 chapter members presented at the organization's three-day "Holiday Conference" at the El Mirador Hotel here yesterday, Driver estimated that the total construction handled by members of AGC in the eleven Southern counties would be approximately $1 billion for the full year 1960. This is very close to the all time high mark set in 1959.

IN REVIEWING accomplishments for the year, Driver hailed the formation of the Construction Bidding Practices Conference as the outstanding achievement of the industry for the twelve month period.

Driver told the conference that membership of the chapter has grown rapidly through 1960, and now totals 702 firms. He cited

Awards will be based on scholarship ratings, financial needs and

Facts Support Visual Evidence

One needs only eyes to be aware of the continuing growth of Palm Springs and the surrounding communities, but every so often some agency releases figures to substantiate what everyone knew all the time.

This time it's the U.S. Bureau of Census, and although the figures are two years late as is so often the case when dealing with federal agencies, they clearly illustrate the amazing growth here as compared to other Riverside County cities.

The figures over 1958 retail sales data, and rate of growth by Palm Springs from 1954-58 and from 1948-58 clearly overshadow any other community.

Palm Springs increased from $22,455,000 in retail sales in 1954 to $41,590,000 in 1958, a jump of 85.2 per cent. Nearest increase percentage-wise by other county cities was Coachella 81.8 per cent. Others were Beaumont, 72.9 per cent; Blythe, 61 per cent; Indio, 53.8 per cent; Hemet, 50 per cent; Riverside, 47.7 per cent; Corona, 20.6 per cent; Banning, 14.5 per cent.

For the 10 year period from 1948-58 Palm Springs showed an increase of 249.1 per cent. Closest among cities recorded was Riverside with 129 per cent, followed by Blythe, 128.6 per cent; Indio, 122.3 per cent; Beaumont, 112.4 per cent; Corona, 98.2 per cent; Hemet, 94.7 per cent; Banning, 57.4 per cent.

One only needs eyes to record progress, but it's always good to have figures to support what is evident.

Hong Kong and Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C. — How do people keep their freedoms? Not always by adopting raw democracy.

Some of us were kicking this idea around at a luncheon with K. T. Woo, editor-in-chief of the Hong Kong Standard. Mr. Woo, a world traveler and one of the Free World's top newspapermen, was telling us that "democracy" in the Crown Colony of Hong Kong would instantly deliver the city of 2.8 million people over to the Communists — with the attendant loss of all civil rights and liberties.

THREE OF US Americans, a man from the Associated Press, one from the United Press International and myself, were positioned to perceive that much the same thing would happen here in Washington if raw democracy set in under Home Rule. I don't mean that there are enough Communists here to take over the District of Columbia, but the ordinary freedoms and protections of minorities would vanish like lawn grass under the trampling of a mob.

Hong Kong and Washington both benefit from an informed, benevolent, and responsible colonial-type administration which could qualify as "consent of the governed," but never as self-government.

WITHOUT BRITISH civil service in one instance, and the appointive commission system in the other, it's hard to see how either city could have lived through certain historic convulsions and risen to become places of beauty, fame, relative prosperity and protected liberties. Hong Kong, about the physical size of New York City, has been a British colony since 1841, except for the Japanese occupation of World War II. It has a formal but completely untenable border with Red China, a population that is 99 per cent Oriental, great extremes of wealth and poverty, and the remotest sort of parental supervision from England under the most obsolete sort of "classical" colonialism.

THE UNITED NATIONS boycott of Red China during the Korean War abruptly ended Hong Kong's long existence as a trading port. Machinery and investment poured in. Within a decade the colony became a manufacturing center with a Labor movement that is known to be dominated by the Reds. Refugees at 75,000 a year, which is about the size of the birth rate, keep swelling the population, which is said to contain a gigantic network of Communist spies and propagandists.

Despite all these diseases, wounds and neuroses of a body politic, Hong Kong lives on for one central reason — good government. There are many imperfections. The colony has become the dumping ground for senior civil servants whom Great Britain's shrinking empire can no longer find jobs for.

THIS IS MONSTROUSLY unfair to a lot of able Chinese who have been educated in government administration. Social welfare never catches up to social needs. Private enterprise does not yield to the ameliorating pressures, as in the United States and West Germany — because Hong Kong is a place of business but not "home" to many of the entrepreneurs. And yet — the efficient, impartial, strictly decent, essentially humane British system carries on. Almost everything said about Hong Kong can be modified and translated to apply to Washington. There was the usual amount of editorial blubbery last Election Day over the absence of a popular franchise. But if Washingtonians obtained the uninhibited right to vote, there would be the Devil to pay.

RAW DEMOCRACY would not work here very much better than it works in the Congo. The District of Columbia is a special case, requiring special treatment. The President, the Congressional committees, many fine citizens' groups, the merchants and the real estate dealers, as well as a few very dedicated individuals, give the Federal City something that City Hall could never deliver.

By great good luck, the new Commissioner is Mark Sullivan, Jr., a man of culture, attainment and dedication who typifies what is best in the administration of such a city's affairs. Freedom, fairness, public spirit and advancement all prosper without benefit of democracy, and all would be jeopardized if the new President and Congress do anything so foolish as to press for Home Rule.

Tough to Make a Clean Sweep

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells, Jingle all the day. Oh, what fun it is to write an easy thing this way.

A week from today the rush comes to an end. The next day is Christmas.

NOTHING much in between except that frenzied last minute rush and the arrival of the winter solstice shortly after noon next Wednesday.

Then, pretty soon, the days will start getting longer but the bank account, shorter as the Yuletide bills come in.

A week from today there also will be that ancient institution the office party, wherein the meekest man in the firm will essay to tell off the boss.

Then wonder where his popularity went.

YOU JUST CAN'T satisfy everyone. Recently came a communication from a woman who urged a continued campaign to have traffic signals installed at our most populous intersections. She said they would save lives and eradicate the hassle at four-way stop intersections. These are especially dangerous, she said, and no good because too many drivers try to steal the right-of-way.

SO I PRINTED what she said. And the other day received another communication.

"You are trying to spoil everything," this woman said. "After living around Los Angeles for a while I thought it was wonderful here. No stop signals. Why I used to go blocks out of my way to avoid them in Los Angeles."

"And now you are trying to bring them here!"

O. K., lady, I like them. I think they are safer.

WRITING about traffic lights — there are none on the freeways. Still many people do not like freeways. Makes them nervous. All you have to do is be able to read signs and the freeways are a dream.

Fellow was telling me (he's just back from a coast to coast tour) about the difference in signs:

In California, where a side ramp comes in, there's the sign "Merging Traffic."

IN NEW YORK, he said, on the turnpikes, the sign simply says "Squeeze."

And in Colorado, near Colorado Springs, he saw the sign, "braided traffic."

Well, the way some drivers weave in and out of lanes, we have braided traffic in California.

That reminds me, too. A judge told me that the best way to acquire a traffic ticket, is to weave in and out of lanes.

A highway patrolman may not notice that you are a bit above the speed limit but when you start to cut in and out you attract his attention — and then, look out!

Says Morris Goldfischer: "This is the time of year when many a man wonders if he can raise enough money to Yuletide him over."

Things Have Changed

WASHINGTON UP — It does not, I'll admit, require any protuberant amount of perspicacity to figure out that things have changed a lot since Horatio Alger and I were boys.

Yet this is the thought that kept slithering through my mind as I was touring the premises of a "career center" which is operating here this week in connection with meetings of the American Rocket Society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

ALGER PROPOUNDED the thesis, in such books as "Sink or Swim," that if a lad were cheerful, loyal, trustworthy, obedient, helpful, kind, diligent, clean, reverent and nice to old ladies, he would stand some chance of finding a job when he grew up.

I didn't exactly cut my teeth on the Alger books, but I did drink deeply of his philosophy. The stuff must have made me intoxicated, for I was a long time in reaching the sobering conclusion that he had it all wrong.

I FINALLY REACHED it at the "Career Center" which is the antithesis of all that Alger taught me. The "Career Center" makes it plain that it is the job-giver, and not the job-seeker, who must be cheerful, loyal, trustworthy, obedient, helpful, kind, diligent, clean, reverent and nice to old ladies.

If any employer is all of these things, then he stands some chance of finding someone to work for him.

IT IS THE SOLE function of the "Career Center," a sort of turnabout employment agency, to help employers recruit employees. Here is the way it works:

A group of companies chip in about $1,000 apiece to set up a center in some city where some scientific or technical meeting is in progress. Scientists and engineers attending the meetings are invited to drop by the center and register.

FREE TRANSPORTATION is provided and every effort is made to make them feel welcome. Some of them sign cards indicating they might be available for employment.

The cards are sent to the companies who then request interviews with the signers. The companies do not even know the names of the prospective employees. The whole thing is done by the numbers.

THIS PROTECTS the anonymity of the prospects and keeps them from being besieged with job offers outside the center. It is strictly up to them whether or not they grant an interview to the companies requesting it.

As I strolled about the center I saw a number of enticing signs like these: "Challenging opportunities for engineers... 150 immediate requirements... we need 300 engineers... creative career opportunities."

THESE JOBS, I was told, pay an average of $12,000 a year. It all looked so inviting. I was tempted to fill out a card myself, even though I am not a scientist or engineer.

But then I happened to think of an even better way to make money. Starting tomorrow, I plan to rewrite the Horatio Alger books.

CHUCKLES

THIEF STEALS PORCH SAN LEANDRO, Calif. UP — Louie Perkovich, 38, complained to police that a thief had visited his home while he was at work.

The culprit took his two-by-three-by-twelve foot back porch.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I am so ashamed of myself I could just die, but maybe if I put this down on paper it will help.

I am a respectable woman of 35. I have a good husband and three lovely children and I haven't a thing to complain about. My problem is I find myself terribly attracted to the man who checks out my groceries. I get all dolled up to go marketing and I know I go there more than I should just to see him (I even buy things I don't need). All he has to do is look at me and my heart beats like a trip hammer. I haven't felt like this since I was in high school!

He calls me "Mrs. Sunshine" and I call him "Mr. Super" (for super market), but I think he took me wrong. It's only a harmless flirtation, but how does a grown woman get over something like this? I even dream about him.

TRUE CONFESSION

DEAR TRUE: All serious entanglements start with a "harmless flirtation." Nip this little attraction in the bud and take your business across the street. And remember, you aren't "in the market" for anything but groceries.

DEAR ABBY: At the bottom of your column you ask people to write to you in care of this paper. How do you get your mail? Do the people down at the paper open the mail and read it first and send it to you? If I thought the people of my newspaper office read what I had to say about my family life, I sure wouldn't write. I hope you won't think my question is too stupid to answer.

GOT PROBLEMS

DEAR GOT: The only questions that are stupid are the ones that are never asked. All letters addressed to me in care of your newspaper are sent to ME—unopened.

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think when a gentleman marries for the second time he should be honest with the lady concerning his health? I recently married a man who is 76. He had surgery a year before we were married. I realize he can't help this, but he never gave me a hint of his condition. I am not an old woman (I am 70) and would enjoy something besides a lovely home and companionship. He said he wouldn't blame me if I got a boyfriend as long as he never found out. I am not that kind of person and would never do such a thing. Had I known of his condition I wouldn't have married him. Is there a solution?

MISLED

DEAR MISLED: Most women of 70 marrying a man of 76 would be content to settle for a "lovely home and companionship," but if you are not, and were indeed "misled," there is a solution. Talk to your clergyman or an attorney about an annulment.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BERTHA SALLY AND ROSALIE: If you want male companionship in Miami this winter, better bring your own.

TIPLING THIEF CELE, Germany UP — A tipling thief let his minor vices get the best of him.

Police said he broke into a combination liquor and grocery store and started sampling the Scotch whisky lined in bottles on the shelves.

Then he started to light a cigarette and set the store on fire.

He poured beer on the fire, but it wouldn't go out.

Then he ran.

The storeowner discovered the fire and put it out with water. The owner also found a box full of coins that police said had been stolen from a nearby tavern.

NEAT BURGLAR HONOLULU UP — Restaurant

owner Yoshinobu Kaneshiro said that a burglar has raided his establishment six times this month — but he had a good word for the intruder.

Kaneshiro said the culprit cut pie with professional neatness, washed his silverware after using it, and always replaced opened fruit juice cans in the refrigerator.

COOKIE THIEVES HIGH POINT, N. C. UP —

Police reported today that burglars used a hammer, shovel, several screwdrivers and a chisel trying to force open a safe in a paint store this weekend.

The yeggs failed to open the safe and settled for other available loot — a $25 check and a box of cookies.

Palm Springs Indians went down to their first defeat in nine games last night at San Diego High as the Southern League Mustangs triumphed 12-0. This was the final CIF action for small schools. Two members of the squad have been placed on the Riverside County League's All Star squad, Marvin Hale and Charlie Black, and three on the second team, Gary Sanders, Dearth Davis and Johnny Black.

Trixie Jarrette, former dance teacher in Mexico City, today announced plans to establish a studio in Palm Springs.

Four men were arrested on Indian Avenue this week, thereby precipitating what may be one of the most important cases in Palm Springs history. It will determine whether Palm Springs Police have the right to go on reservation land, and whether the city can enforce its laws on reservations lands in the city limits. Arrested were the owner of a building under construction and three carpenters at work, because a city building permit had not been obtained.

At Devine's Market—Bacon Squares 11 cents a lb.—Adv. Ruth Skinner and a notable cast of the Emery Hall Players will present "Personal Appearance" at the Plaza Theater Monday evening.

At Safeway—Pure Cane Sugar, 10 pounds 45 cents.—Adv. Editorial Page—October automobile production was the lowest in several years. It was only 150,044 cars. The same month last year it was 380,017. This means that a lot of people are driving old cars. When prosperity returns there will be a grand rush of buyers. The present situations forecasts prosperity for the automobile industry.

AFTER SUNSET

Whispering Waters Gets Jenkins Trio

By GEORGE LAINE

Whispering Waters, which has already established itself as a factor to be reckoned with in the desert's entertainment picture, adds additional evidence of that status on Tuesday when the Marvin Jenkins Trio, a highly-skilled, highly polished threesome, opens at the fashionable Rancho Mirage hotel.

The announcement was made today by Whispering Waters manager, Paul Grubb.

THE JENKINS TRIO, one of the most sought-after club attractions, will play through New Year's at the RM hotel and will be joined for both the Christmas and New Year's holidays by members of the ownership who—as we all know by now—include Carolyn Jones, Hugh O'Brian, Dennis Weaver, Lloyd Bridges and Pat Conway. (I'm personally stuck on Aaron Spelling's sense of humor, as evidenced in the Whispering Waters opening show last month. I'm eager to see him do more.)

Until Tuesday, the incentive to hang around out in Rancho Mirage—in addition to Shirley Allegretti's impossible pizza, namely the "Allegretti Special"—rests with Xavier Guervo's keyboard razzle-dazzle.

And that must be good enough. Friday night Hildy Crawford was huddled right up close to the piano and last night Charles Laughton was listening to Xavier. (Plus an assortment of other names.)

DICK ROSE'S PIANO, featured nightly at Laurie's Steak Ranch out on Highway 111 (just the other side of Kreis' on the Rocks), doesn't have to take a back seat to Guervo or anyone around.

The other evening, Rose sat down at the piano and proceeded to play everything anyone could request demanded more requests and when we couldn't think of them fast enough started supplying his own demands.

(He's also wrapped up a colorful Parisian medley, a Gershwin medley and—of all things—an Eddy Howard medley, in salute to that great singer-bandleader currently on the bandstand nightly at El Mirador.)

FRIENDS OF THE FERRALL'S Playhouse at Deep Well will make their weight felt for the first time this season when they conduct a "Friends Paint-Up Party" in the foyer of the theater at Deep Well Ranch.

A portion of the group—which number about 60 during the perous times last spring—are already pegged for brush-swinging duties at the theater and will be using paint which Palm Springs Paint Company virtually gave away (since Edna and Laurie Sheklow are charter members of the Friends).

The color will be dove grey, the paint campaign begins at 10 a.m. Sunday, and this is one time in the year when you can get into the theater for free. (We may even conclude the painting with a case of beer.)

CUTE HAPPENSTANCE at the Ranch Club earlier this week when Gregory Peck and spouse Veronique phoned the office to check out. "Get the bill ready, please," asked Peck.

Whereupon the three pretty ones in the office split exactly three ways in search of mirrors so they'd look especially nice when tall, dark and box office Peck showed with the money.

They were still drawing straws to see who'd actually perform the check-out operation when Peck arrived. Mrs. Peck, that is.

PINT-SIZED Jimmy Tattler who served hundreds of celebrities during his 18 years as wine steward in Chicago's swank Ambassador East Pump Room, has been coaxed out of retirement by Oilman Ray Ryan.

Tattler, who like Ryan, hails from Indiana, is the new wine steward at the oilman's plush El Mirador Hotel in Palm Springs. Jimmy reported to work the same night singing maestro Eddy Howard and his 15-piece orchestra opened a season's long engagement at the fashionable desert spa.

Bing Crosby, who was there with Kathy, espied him and yelled "What the matter, Jimmy, did they close the Pump Room?"

Tattler was that closely identified with the Pump Room before his retirement to Phoenix, Ariz., this summer.

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: They are still looking for the irate listener who severely stabbed Tucson deejay Ron Irvin and screamed "I hate rock and roll" at the top of his voice . . . Somehow, while rejecting the action, you can almost sympathize with the listener.

Red Skelton attended a Christmas party Thursday with fellow workers 4½ miles away from his bed in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital . . . It was easy—via closed circuit TV . . .

It's rather fitting that Eddy Howard should air his "New Years Dance Party" bit from the El Mirador Hotel since the EM was also the location of the first radio broadcast made in Palm Springs.

That would have been the original "Amos and Andy Show" and it aired from the top of the tower. . .

Nice going. KDES, with that Bangkok dateline on yesterday's news-casts (about people fleeing from Laos) . . . I had almost given up on your pluggers for Bangkok ever being justified . . . Now, if we can only put a little day music more holiday into the "holiday music" . . .

Yule Cantata Slated at Church

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—The hour-long Christmas cantata "The Coming of the King" will be presented by a 19-voice mixed chorus here at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church.

The 10-part program will include choruses, solos, and duets. Mrs. Rosemary Bell, musical director and organist for the church, will accompany.

RENE TOUZET, "Mr. Cha Cha" to the millions who have danced to his exciting Cuban band, has developed a large following in his short two weeks at the Palm Springs Riviera Hotel. Dancers also enjoyed the music of the Billy Allen Band, which alternates with Touzet. (Sun Photo.)

JOE WOOD, who will sing tenor lead in production of Handel's "Messiah" at 4 p.m., Sunday, in St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church. The program is presented by the Palm Springs Civic Chorus.

MARY RAPHAEL is soprano lead for Handel's "Messiah," which is to be heard at 4 p.m., Sunday in St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church. Harry Tomlinson will conduct and Christine Tomlinson will play organ accompaniment. (Desert Sun Photo.)

Entertainment in the Sun

Dorothy Shay, Kent and Ray Open at Chi Chi

Dorothy Shay and Her Kinfolks—joined by comic Lenny Kent, dancer Jimmy Ray and the big Bill Alexander Band—opened a 10-day run in the Chi Chi Starlite Room here last night creating scads of nostalgia for local clubgoers.

It should—since each of these acts have returned in almost exactly the same form in which they were last observed here.

The repetition isn't a detraction. Shay and her cohorts go through the satirization of hillbilly life that shot the singer to fame, embellish some and add others. Most pleasant surprise of the evening was a straight vocal delivery by Dorothy of "So In Love" in which she served a reminder that she wasn't a onetime star band vocalist for nothing.

Kent's routine—heard time and again here—caught some of the crowd by surprise. Particularly effective was his resume of the entire show in speed talk for three late arrivals.

Jimmy Ray's dance routines, seen here for the umpteenth umpteenth time, nevertheless had vigor and expression. And crowd response—George Laine.

Wilton McCoy 'Artist of Month'

Wilton McCoy has been named "Artist of the month" for January with a display scheduled for the community room of the Security First National Bank's Ramon and Indian Avenue branch.

The show, jointly sponsored by bank and the Desert Art Center, features different artists picked by a panel of judges.

McCoy, the "smoke tree artist," is a native Kansan who was a contractor in Long Beach. During the depression year, he studied architectural drawing and charcoal work, moved into sculpture, watercolor and oil work. His teachers included Henry Richter, Evelyn Collins, Sam Hyde Harris and Dick Dickrickson.

McCoy sold his Long Beach interests in 1947 to move to the desert area. From his Cathedral City home he paints and teaches private students. Previously he taught landscape painting in adult education classes here.

McCoy's work has been displayed throughout Southern California, in Phoenix and Seattle.

Around Town

... with Hildy Crawford

Here on the desert ... we have no snow ... except on the mountain tops ... Our holly is the desert variety ... but we have poinsettias ... Instead of pines and cedars ... our evergreens are the palm trees ... their hands filled with gifts ... for those less fortunate ones ... Caroling sounds just as beautiful on the still desert air ... as if the carolers were standing in a snowdrift with their own frosty breath ballooning from their mouths as they sing ... The spirit of Christmas prevails in our churches ... and in the schools where children have been presenting programs this week ... as it was that first Christmas in a little desert town of Bethlehem ...

Thursday night was as rare as that day in June ... you hear so much about ... We hadn't accepted any invitations ... so we dropped over to the Ranch Club for one of those steak and bean salad dinners ... (if you are a newcomer ... you may not know about this Ranch Club salad ... that has hot beans on top of it) ... The Wally Harpst Trio was playing and Clessa Williams sang "I Love Paris" for me ... like always ...

Tommie (Mrs. W. Turner) Clack came in with a dinner group ... which included Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Kune of Seattle (he's an architect and builder) and Elizabeth Hammer of San Francisco (interior decorator) ... and the party was celebrating the start of construction that day ... of the Clacks' new house at Thunderbird ... It will be a seven room contemporary ... located on Calico Road at Tonopah ... Tommie says she's had that lot for 10 years ...

Now that it's started ... Turner is taking her to Spokane for Christmas ... then they go to Africa to the Mt. Kenya Safari Club ... and to Austria for the skiing ... and the trip was planned to keep Tommie from changing her mind about the house plans ... Smart man ...

By the time we were leaving ... the Ranch Club was filling with Sylvia TV executives ... who kept Clessa singing for them the rest of the evening ... Sorta reminds you of Ginny Simms' song "Seventeen Women and Only One Man in Town" ... In reverse, that is ...

The night was dark and the stars glittered ... as we headed out to Rancho Mirage ... and a visit to Whispering Waters ... where the combination of decor and names is one for the book (what book is that, ...)

has rented a Las Palmas house to the Gregory Pecks ...

Marj Pohl (who's been under the weather this week) tells me that the Dean Martins and Sammy Cahns were dinner darning at El Mirador the other night ...

Mrs. Ward Warner flew here from New York this week ... and is with her friend Joan Manus at 567 West Arenas for the winter ...

Joanie ... who has been limping about with a bad ankle ... says she's feeling better ...

They have been cha-cha-chaing up a storm at Tennis Club on Thursday nights ... New members Ruth and Louis Williams won another prize this week ... as did the Norman Habers ... Seattleites Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swanson were there with a party ... Among others on the dance floor ... were the Bob Alexanders ... J. S. Levin and party ... Gladys Strykers ...

Frankie Spitz had a Christmas card from Frederick Loewe ... with the note "see you soon" ... so she thinks that he may be here at his Panorama Road home for the holidays ... Loewe, of course, is one of America's musical greats ... He's half the team of Lerner and Loewe ... who wrote "My Fair Lady" ... and whose new musical "Camelot" ... which opened on Broadway recently ... has a three million dollar advance sale ... and drew nothing but raves for the Loewe music ...

The John Millos are holding a reception tomorrow afternoon in the Mediterranean Room of the Riviera Hotel, from 4 to 7 p.m. ... in anticipation of the La Cherry Opera season ...

'Xmas Belles' on Woman's Club Program

Bringing Christmas a little nearer, and a little dearer, with their nostalgic Yuletide songs, will be the "Xmas Belles," who entertain Monday, December 19, at the Palm Springs Woman's club.

These exceptionally fine young artists, singing in trio and solo, include: Lillias Gilbert, dramatic soprano, who has concertized throughout California in her own program; Melesse Marvin, coloratura soprano, has numerous television appearances to her credit; Jo Anne MacNish, lyric soprano, is also an accomplished pianist, accompanist and soloist in both church and concert. Three years with the Ina Ray Hutton show on television, they are well known as "Television Sweethearts of Song" or the "Xmas Belles," according to Mrs. Glenn B. Watson, program chairman, who is bringing this program to the Woman's club.

Mrs. George O. Wheeler, president, will conduct the meeting which opens at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse, 314 South Cahulla. Refreshments, amid a Christmas decor, will be served to members and their guests by tea chairman, Mrs. Charles B. Wilson and her committee, including Mmes. Mel Crowell, John Gallarini, J.V.C. Gregory, Ernest Johnson, Harold Johnson, James Stone, also Mrs. Charlotte Goodwin, and Miss Hazel Gross.

MARRIED IN EL PASO, Sharon Marcia Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Troike Walker of LaMirada, became the bride of Daniel Worcester Currier, whose parents the Edward Haines Curriers, have a home here on South Riverside Drive.

Currier-Walker Wedding Takes Place in El Paso

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Troike Walker of La Mirada, announce the marriage of their daughter Sharon Marcia to Daniel Worcester Currier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haines Currier, formerly of Los Angeles, now residing at 1177 South Riverside Drive, Palm Springs.

The couple were married December 14 in a candlelight ceremony in the chapel of the First Brigade at Fort Bliss Army Missile Base in El Paso, Texas, where the groom is stationed. They said their vows before Chaplain Patrick Hyde.

Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the small chapel. Given in marriage

Santa Claus to Reach Cathedral on Fire Truck

In Cathedral City Santa Claus will arrive by fire truck, rendezvousing with all the children and other fans, at the Community Christmas tree, located on the island at Grove and Highway 111 at 6:30 p.m. on December 21.

He will be bringing a packload of Christmas stockings for all preschool through sixth grade Cathedral City children. The stockings, which members of the Cathedral City Junior Women's Club helped Santa fill, contain items donated by the local merchants and civic organizations.

The tree, which is donated by civic groups, is being decorated today by Brownies and Girl Scouts, using decorations secured by Cathedral City Woman's Club. The Woman's Club is also in charge of the tree in the local postoffice which is being decorated by Mrs. Norman Karr's Brownie Troop No. 110. Christmas posters to be placed on downtown telephone poles are being furnished by the Senior Woman's Club.

Stuff the gathered pockets of little girls' dresses with soft tissue paper, and they will be easier to iron.

Christmas Play Features Toastmistress' Party

The lobster curry and all the extra goodies made the Christmas party at the home of Mary Fowler, one long to be remembered by Toastmistress Club of Palm Springs.

There was a Christmas play, with each member playing a role, as children of "Mother" Fowler's family. Hilarious was the scene, when Shirley McVey, the "eldest child" was reading a Christmas poem, brought the warning that she needed Toastmistress training.

True inspiration came from Ann Smith's talk on the Real Meaning of Christmas, bringing out the thought that the kindness, love

Mrs. Ben Read Entertains Clubwomen

Guests received hand-painted ceramic gifts, souvenirs of the hostess' recent trip to Mexico, when Mrs. Ben Read entertained members of the executive board of Palm Springs Woman's Club at a luncheon at Howard Manor. Mrs. Read is Club treasurer.

A festive air prevailed as the party enjoyed the luncheon, which preceded a business meeting of the board. Many proposed Club activities, of a social and philanthropic nature were discussed. These include special event benefit parties such as the style show luncheon to be held at El Mirador on January 31, with Mrs. Herbert Burns as chairman. There will be several benefit luncheons and card party sessions at the clubhouse, and one at the Racquet Club on April 10, with Mrs. Oliver Grew as chairman. Proceeds of all these parties will go into the Club's scholarship fund.

Those attending included Mmes. George Wheeler, Howard W. Matthews, Louis Lombard, Marvin D. Cartwright, Herbert W. Burns, Charlotte B. Goodwin, Chauncey D. Mahannah, Allan P. James, Glenn B. Watson, Jerome H. Dreier, Irwin D. Wright, Joseph Forkner and Miss Hazel Gross.

Human Rights Day Observed at Luncheon

Flags of all nations formed the centerpiece, and a small flag at each place represented countries, which are members of International Federation, when Soroptimist Club of Palm Springs observed Human Rights Day at their Tuesday meeting. Miss Katherine Finchy was the speaker.

Carrying out the theme, Wynne Hammond, a past president of the Club, and Judy Jorgenson, Palm Springs High School Junior, sang folk songs from Switzerland, Mexico and England, closing with the Soroptimist International song.

President Gurli Gilbert asked all former members to try to attend the annual Christmas party for Senior Citizens, which will be held at Security First National Bank at Ramon Road and Indian Avenue, this Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. Each one attending is asked to bring prizes to be used for games. There will be refreshments, and Lucille Johnson is arranging a program.

Soroptimists will hold their own Christmas party at the Biltmore Hotel next Tuesday at 12:15 p.m. Guests are invited, and Elsie Ades reminds everyone to bring a child's toy or a can of fruit.

Business Women Hold Christmas Dinner Party

Diningroom and tables were decked with holly, while flocked Christmas trees hung with glittering ornaments made a festive holiday scene, when Palm Springs Business Women's Club enjoyed their annual Christmas dinner Monday night at Saddle and Sirloin restaurant.

President Munya Smoot and Jennie Leonzio had charge of the decorating.

Young Tim Edwards and Raymond Costello from Desert Hot Springs entertained during dinner hour with accordion and saxophone music.

Rouben Baboian sang two songs, one in Italian and one in Russian, accompanied by the piano by Mr. Vitalis, who also played carols for group singing.

Christmas gifts were exchanged and the pleasure of the gift exchange was intensified by the remembrance of secret pals.

Women Golfers Planning Party

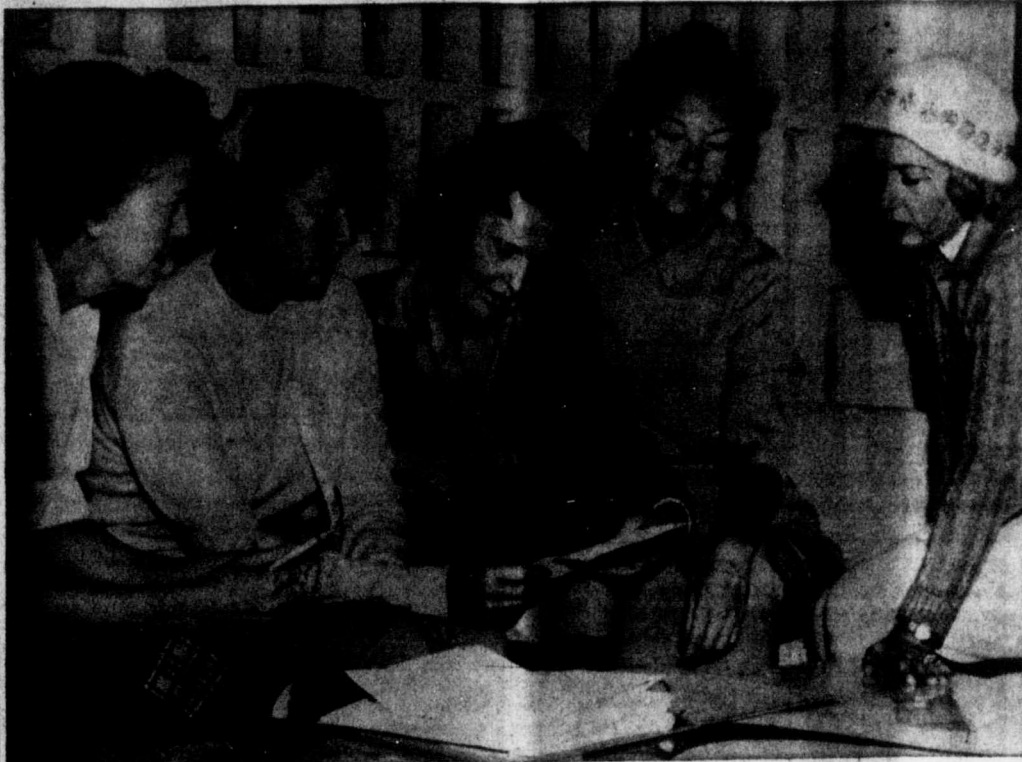

A nine-hole golf tournament will precede a Christmas Party Tuesday for the Ladies' Club of the Palm Springs Municipal Golf Course.

The party, at the Elk's Lodge, at one p.m., will take the form of a luncheon, with gifts being exchanged and prizes awarded to the winners of the pre-party tournament.

Glazed Look

The tile industry suggests an attractive decoration for a kitchen wall as well as a practical way to keep a favorite recipe at hand.

Get glazed ceramic tiles from a local contractor, print the recipes on the tiles with a fine brush and good enamel. Then bake the tiles in the oven for 45 minutes at a temperature of 250 degrees. The tiles should be installed in splash-back areas around kitchen counters and range.

For an outdoor cooking treat, rub a potato with fat and slice in thirds. Put powdered onion soup and butter between the pieces. Reseal the potato, wrap in foil and grill until done.

Intermediate Grades Hold School Christmas Program

A tree purchased by the Parent-Teacher Association, decorated the stage when children of Katherine Finchy School staged their annual Christmas program. Tree decorations were made by the intermediate grades, Rooms 4-6, who also made the program covers.

Each room received a gift of five dollars from the P-TA, to be expended as the rooms decide.

Representatives of the Flying Blue Birds lead the flag salute and handed out the programs. Dr. James Blackstone Jr., pastor of Palm Springs Community Church, gave the invocation. Combined kindergartens, under the direction of Mrs. Beverly Watt, sang "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

Combined first grades under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Arnold and Mrs. Ruth Kellogg, combined second grades directed by Mrs. Aiken and Mrs. Webb, combined third grades directed by Theo Regans, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. M. Moen, Miss Ann Nichols, were all on the program which ended with a community sing, lead by the combined third grades.

Crusty

NEW YORK (UPI) — Here's a crunchy, rich crust for holiday pies. Mix together 1 cup of quick rolled oats, uncooked, 1-3 cup of sifted flour, 1-3 cup of brown sugar and 1/2 teaspoon of salt. Add 1-3 cup of melted shortening and mix until crumbly. Pack firmly into the bottom and on the sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Place a smaller pie plate on top to hold the crumbs in place. Bake in a 375-degree oven until crust is brown, about 15 minutes. Remove the small pie plate 2 minutes after the crust comes from the oven. Cool and fill with your favorite chiffon pie filling.

Quick n' Easy

Make breakfast oatmeal for one the easy way. Place 1/3 cup of rolled oats and 1/4 teaspoon of salt in a heat-proof cereal bowl. Add 2-3 cup of boiling water; stir to combine. Place bowl in a pan containing about 1 inch of hot water. Cover pan and bring water to boil. Cook quick oats 1 or 2 minutes, old fashioned oats, 5 minutes or longer, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and let stand covered for several minutes before serving.

MICKEY ROONEY, SON SHOW TEAM

Teddy Rooney toddled into show business at the age of 5, relatively late in life for the progeny of a trouper who literally crawled before the footlights as a gurgling 1-year-old.

But Mickey Rooney, Teddy's show-biz-steeped father, says in unflickering deadpan that he "held the boy back until he was ready."

TEDDY, NOW 11, and Mickey appear together for the first time on television in "The Money Driver" on "The General Electric Theater" Sunday, Dec. 18, 9-9:30 p.m., on the CBS Television Network.

They play, to no one's surprise, son and father.

Teddy made his tardy professional debut when his father hired him for a role in the last gasp of the Andy Hardy movie series.

"Andy Hardy Comes Home." "There was no point," says Mickey, his face still straight, "in rushing the boy into show business."

Benny Upsets Everyone with Yule Shopping

Jack Benny leaves a store full of raw nerves in his wake when he goes Christmas shopping on "The Jack Benny Program" Sunday, Dec. 18, 9:30-10 p.m., on the CBS Television Network.

Benny compounds the holiday confusion with his irresolution and traditional fondness for money, and when he leaves a mass sigh of relief rattles the walls of the department store.

Don Wilson, Dennis Day and Rochester are featured. Mel Blanc portrays a clerk and Frank Nelson is a floorwalker.

The program was produced and directed by James Kern and written by Sam Perrin, George Balzer, Al Gordon and Hal Goldman.

Secret Minutes of 'Grand Order'

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International
NEW YORK (U.P.) — The secret minutes of TV's "Grand Order of Loot-Laden Deadbeat Dandies."

Seated beneath the autographed, life-size portrait of King Farouk were dynamic Peter Fairchild, currently caving in "The Tab Hunter Show," Harvey Spencer Blair III, bulwark of "Hennessey," and scholarly Catsworth Osborne Jr., sturdy oak of the "Dobie Gillis Show."

MR. OSBORNE reported on intolerable working conditions at the "Dobie Gillis" scene. "I have offered an entire wardrobe to that Beatnik chap, Maynard Krebs," he said, "but Dobie refused to let him change. Old Dobie - Doo insists that Maynard wear that four, ugh, pardon the expression, sweat shirt. I told him, 'Dobie, baby, either we dress elegantly - Homburgs, chisterfields and all that - or I move to 'The Real McCoy.' Dobie said he'll never wear a chisterfield because our sponsor is Marlboro, or some such domestic brand."

In pursuing the subject of sponsors, Mr. Fairchild asked if

G.O.L.L.D.D. members could be sponsored by less prosaic products.

"I BELIEVE the Jaguar distributors would be happy to take over my show," he said. Mr. Blair announced that the New York Stock Exchange appeared anxious to sponsor his show and Mr. Osborne volunteered to sound out family friends at De Beers International, Ltd.

Sgt. Ernest Bilko, honorary financial advisor, reminded G.O.L.L.D.D. members of the crisis in the nation's balance of payments and asked if they were ready to ease the situation by making sacrifices.

MR. FAIRCHILD, in tears, evoked cries of "bravo" when he announced that he already has cabled a "hold" order on his type 41 Bugatti and was switching to American perfumes as gifts to his chicks.

Visibly moved, Mr. Osborne told the group that hereafter he would purchase polo ponies, mallets and balls domestically. As the cheers faded, Mr. Blair stated that he had cancelled his annual week-end on the Isle of Capri for the "Hennessey" cast and withdrawn his invitation to film the program at his dad's marina at Cannes.

MEMBERS DISCUSSED the acquisition of competing TV programs so that their respective half-hours could be seen on each network simultaneously. Sgt. Bilko mumbled something about anti-trust laws. The G.O.L.L.D.D. members decided to establish their own rating service instead.

Mr. Osborne announced that he had rejected Bill Cullen's invitation to become the December sweepstakes prize on "The Price Is Right."

"I'VE OFFERED them Mommy in my place," said Chatsworth. A resolution was adopted calling for cleaner TV Westerns. It said, in part, "G.O.L.L.D.D. members protest against the practice of filling the screen with actors who are shabbily dressed, unshaven, perspiring, leather-skinned and unmanly."

THESE ACTORS rely upon horses of unregistered stock for transportation, in utter disregard of all principles of gracious living. Be it resolved that the members send to the prop departments of 'Gunsmoke,' 'Deputy,' 'Wanted - Dead or Alive' and 'Wagon Train' gift certificates from Brooks Brothers and Mercedes-Benz."

Immediately after adjournment, the traditional exchange of hot telephone numbers took place under the smiling gaze of King Farouk.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Two new audience participation shows join ABC-TV's daytime schedule next month. On Jan. 9, "Camouflage," in which contestants try to identify concealed objects, replaces "The Texan." On Jan. 30, "Number, Please," another guessing game for merchandise prizes, replaces the long-running "Beat the Clock."

"Concentration" announcer Art James acquires his own show starting Jan. 2 when "Say When" replaces "Dough Re Mi" on NBC-TV's morning schedule. "Say When," like "Number, Please," is a Goodson-Todman game show.

A half-hour film re-cap, "Sports Highlights of 1960," pre-empted "The Fight of the Week" on ABC-TV Christmas Eve.

Our Lady of Guadalupe Fete Draws Large Crowd

By RAFAELA MARMOLEJO V.

El 12 de Diciembre (the 12 of December) the day of Our Lady of Guadalupe, the church which bears the same name y esta situada (and is located) at the corner of El Segundo and East Arenas had its celebration on that day . . . La misa cantada (the high mass) at 7:30 p.m. and the coronation of Our Lady of Guadalupe was a real treat for the faithful que estuvieron presentes (that were present) for the occasion.

CV Indian Land Irrigation Lines Near Completion

INDIO — Construction of irrigation laterals and main drainage lines on the Augustine and Cabezón Indian Reservations in the Coachella Valley is nearing completion, and the Colorado River irrigation water will make farming on the 1,900 acres possible for the first time.

Many of the owners of the land currently are seeking persons interested in leasing parcels for farming purposes, according to Orlando Garcia, field representative, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Riverside.

PRAYDA RAPS FACTORY FOR BUM TRACTORS

MOSCOW — The Stalingrad trailer factory was under fire today from Pravda for turning out farm machinery that breaks down too often.

The official Communist party paper said that in general the Soviet tractor design was all right, but poor production techniques resulted in costly repairs and parts replacement. It cited one special part that had to be replaced every year on every fourth or fifth tractor produced.

Women's Publix Tourney Slated Here Next April

Palm Springs Municipal golf course will be site for the annual tournament of the Women's Public Links Golf Association of Southern California on April 26 and 27. It was announced this week. Officers of the association were here the other day to confer with Zell Eaton, pro-manager at the local Muni course on the program for the event.

In town to map plans were Mrs. Betty Mills, the new president of the association, Mrs. Jackie Rasch, outgoing president, Mrs. Ruth Hall, new tournament chairman, and Mrs. Marie Horton, outgoing chairman.

The Women's Public Links Golf Association, takes in 42 municipal golf courses in Southern California with the local course its newest member.

The latest list shows 1,309 individual members.

Palm Springs Women's Golf club which plays the local course each Tuesday, is the newest group to join the WPLGA.

Bears Win UPI Basketball Cup

BERKELEY, Calif. — The University of California basketball squad has been honored by United Press International as the No. 1 team of the 1959-60 season.

Hal Wood, Pacific Division sports editor for UPI, presented a three-foot high gold trophy Friday night to Dick Doughty, co-captain of last year's squad.

The presentation was made at half-time of the California-University of San Francisco basketball game.

Senior Grand Slam Champ Likes Desert Golf Play

Franklin Robinson, of Virginia Country Club, Long Beach, but here in Palm Springs from the start of the season to the end because of the local golf courses was awarded a tribute this week by his senior golfing friends (he is 71) who named him the Senior Grand Slam Champion.

Robinson is practically a daily visitor at O'Donnell Golf Club.

WHAT FOLLOWS was written by his friends, who relish, as he does the many offerings for senior golfers in the Palm Springs area. Another successful national senior open golf tournament has become history. Although the weather man pulled a most unusual joker, it did not prevent some very fine golf among those seniors who live by the philosophy that you are never any older than you feel and that nothing prolongs that youthful feeling more effectively than club - of - door life with a golf club in your hand.

NO ONE BETTER illustrates this than Franklin Robinson, who

Rose Bowl Rivals Arrive to Prepare for Jan. 2 Classic

PASADENA, Calif. — The rival teams in the 42nd annual Rose Bowl football game—Minnesota and Washington—arrive in Southern California today to prepare for the Jan. 2 encounter.

The Golden Gophers of Minnesota get in first, their chartered plane landing at Lockheed air terminal in nearby Burbank shortly after 11 a.m. PST.

Coach Murray Warmath and his traveling squad will be greeted by Tournament of Roses Association officials headed by President Arthur W. Althouse, the Big Ten champions getting the traditional welcome for the visiting eastern team.

THE WELCOMING GROUP includes Carole Washburn, queen of the tournament, and her court of six princesses, all Pasadena coeds.

Following the airport ceremony, the team and official party travels to the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel, where a formal Tournament of Roses reception is scheduled for players, coaches and University of Minnesota officials and dignitaries.

The team then suits up for a light workout and photographic session at Brookside Park, adjoining the Rose Bowl stadium.

The University of Washington contingent arrives at 4 p.m. PST at Long Beach Municipal Airport, about 30 miles from here. Coach Jim Owens and his players also will be greeted by tournament officials and Queen Carole and her court.

AFTER THEIR AIRPORT reception, the Huskies will travel by motorcade through the downtown area of Long Beach to the Lafayette Hotel which will be their headquarters until Jan. 2.

At the hotel, team members and Washington officials will be introduced to the Long Beach crowd by coach Jim Owens.

A BUM last year and almost fired, coach Murray Warmath of the Minnesota Gophers is smelling roses this year. His grid-ders arrived in the southland today to start preparations for the Rose Bowl game Jan. 2 against University of Washington's Huskies.

SC, Bruins Win Over Butler, Notre Dame

LOS ANGELES — The Southland came through last night as its two major basketball teams defeated two invaders from Indiana, home of the rabid basketball fan.

UCLA's Bruins defeated Notre Dame in the nightcap at the Sports

Arena Friday night and UXC's Trojans defeated Butler in the opener, 66-56.

Coach Johnny Wooden's explosive crew was held in check for the first half and led 36-34 at intermission, but then outscored the Irish 32-5 in the next 10 minutes.

Ron Lawson, an outstanding soph who may lead the revitalized Bruins back to the heights of the 1955-57 era, scored 19 to lead the winners to their fourth straight win after an opening game loss. In the first half of the double bill at Los Angeles Friday night, Southern California bounced Butler 66-56 as John Rudometkin had 21. USC and UCLA swap foes tonight.

Washington, which is slipping from co-favorite to longshot in the Big Five race, lost a 63-60 thriller to Iowa State. Bill Hanson had 20 for the Huskies to share scoring honors. They meet again tonight.

California U., one of the Big Five's leaders, defeated University of San Francisco Friday night, 53 to 39.

Executive offices for the Desert Angels Committee — the organization which will be in charge of the Los Angeles Angels training camp in Palm Springs, are being opened in The Center in downtown Palm Springs, it was announced today by executive vice chairman Harry Voelker.

The offices will be located on the second floor over The Desert Sun offices, and will have special telephone numbers. It is also easily accessible to the "home base" of the Angels camp, just across from the Desert Inn.

THE COMMITTEE, headed by chairman Kenneth Kirk, is currently undertaking the appointment of local business and professional people as chairmen of subcommittees in handling the arrangements of the Angels training season in Palm Springs.

The committee will appoint a representative from each of the desert communities, Indio, Palm Desert, Rancho Mirage, Cathedral City, Thousand Palms, Desert Hot Springs, Twentynine Palms and the high desert communities, to handle ticket sales in their areas.

TICKETS WILL BE printed and on sale as soon as possible, and the following prices have been tentatively set: $50 for a season box ticket, $25 for a season general admission. General admission will be $1.75 for adults and 50 cents for children.

A chairman of a "Grantors" committee will be selected to contact leading citizens in an attempt to get guarantees of $500 to $1,000 to subsidize the training program. Grantors will be given first opportunity to choose choice box seats, and unless there is a deficit they will not be called upon to use their guarantee money.

The entire program will be undertaken without expense to the local taxpayers.

Twenty top players from each clinic will oppose each other in the tournament slated for the Palm Springs High School Courts at 10 a.m.

The Desert Sun and various local service clubs. Attendance this year averages around 100 youngsters, between the ages of 9 and 14 from the Palm Springs Unified School district each Saturday.

Shantz Goes to Bucs, McDevitt to Yankees

By United Press International The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates hailed the acquisition of pitcher Bobby Shantz today as the shot in the arm they'll need to "finish where we did last season."

Shantz, the little 35-year-old left-hander used in relief by the American League champion New York Yankees in 1960, was picked up from the new Washington Senators Friday night in exchange for three minor league players.

The trade, only the second made Friday, beat the interleague trading deadline by two hours. Four hours earlier, the Yankees purchased Danny McDevitt, another left-handed pitcher, from the Los Angeles Dodgers for an unannounced amount of cash and a minor league player to be delivered at a later date.

TO GET SHANTZ, picked up Wednesday in the special AL draft for the two new clubs, the Pirates gave up first baseman R. C. Stevens, third baseman Harry Bright and pitcher Benny Daniels to the Senators.

"We made this trade because we want to finish where we did last season," said a jubilant Joe Brown, general manager of the world champions. "We gave up quite a bit to get Shantz and his acquisition will give up the best bullpen in baseball."

Shantz, who compiled a neat 2.78 earned run average in 68 innings of work with the Yankees during the 1960 season, is expected to join such relievers as Roy Face, Clem Labine and Fred Green in the Pirates bullpen.

McDEVITT, who had an 0-4 record with the Dodgers last season, was picked up as a replacement for Shantz. The Yankees lost Eli Grba and Duke Maas along with Shantz in the special draft to stock the Senators and Los Angeles Angels.

Danny, a native New Yorker, first joined the Dodgers in 1957 and has his best season with Los Angeles in 1959 when he won 10 and lost 8. Used primarily as a reliever, McDevitt worked in 23 games in 1960, allowing 51 hits in 53 innings and had a 4.25 era.

Rodriguez Picked 8-5 To Win Over Griffith

NEW YORK — Speedy Luis Rodriguez of Cuba is favored at 8-5 to beat slick Emile Griffith of New York Saturday night in their fight for a march shot at the welterweight crown.

This 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden between the two best young contenders will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. EST.

Unbeaten Rodriguez, who twice outpointed Benny (Kid) Paret before Paret became 147-pound champion, is making his New York debut. The rangy Cuban, 23, enjoys top rating among all contenders in the division.

Griffith, 22, resembles heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in build and performance although he's smaller, of course. Emile is ranked third. He may be a harder puncher than Rodriguez although each has scored one third of his victories by knockouts. He's a sharp, accurate hooker — from the bob-weave or from the upright stance.

Rodriguez, unusually fast on his feet and with his hands, registered 11 kayoes while winning 33 of his 35 professional starts. Two of his bouts were no-contest affairs.

Chuck's to Host Orthos Sunday At Polo Grounds

Chuck's Welding baseball team, in third place in the Desert Resort League with three wins and two losses hosts the Ortho Dealers team from Indio, now second with four wins and a loss, tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Polo Grounds to start the second round of play in the loop.

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan team, the other Palm Springs entry in the league with a 2-3 mark after the first round, goes to Indio to meet the Sultans of Coachella, who went through the first round of league play without a defeat and now are leading at 5-0.

Kenny Price will pitch and Charley Black catch for Chuck's against Ortho here and Johnny Andrews will be on the mound and Joe Lewis behind the plate for CVSL at Indio.

The CV Hawks, 1-4, and the Indio Cardinals, 0-5, meet in the other game tomorrow to launch the second round.

Ties Mark Play In Indian Wells Auxiliary Event

Bee Weldman and Shelby Forlani tied for first in Class A of the Indian Wells Country Club Women's Auxiliary Blind Nine tournament with one half handicap this week. Second in Class A were Alice Heffernan and Julie Harris, also tied.

Class B was won by Katherine Rauter with June Crux second and Beth Gisher, third.

In Class C, Ruth Ames won, Tommy Izu, second and Mary Johnston, third.

COVINA BOY SCOUT TROOP 459 held a desert campout on the grounds of the Desert Air Hotel, where they were guests of Hank Gogerty, architect and owner of the airport hotel. The scouts, sponsored by Covina's Ben Lomond School P-TA and accompanied by Scoutmaster Buster Wilson, spent their time hiking, map-reading, swimming, compass-reading and a variety of other scout pastimes. (W. Lee Wenzlick Photo)

SANDPIPER

Prime Weather Greet Visitors

Crisp clear "Desert Holiday" weather cooperated perfectly the last few days to serve as the ideal background for a score of new Sandpiper visitors and guests.

At the George Osborne apartment, Mr. and Mrs. Rene DeVaranne of La Jolla entertained a number of friends at cocktails. Present were Capt. and Mrs. Douglas Waldron of Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Kernick-Cole of Indio, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hodgeman of Palm Desert, and Dr. and Mrs. William Seals of the desert community.

The DeVarrannes told their friends of plans for a trip to the Orient this April. Mrs. DeVaranne is a tour director.

Ryan Aeronautics vice president Robert Clark and his wife were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Godie. The Clarks are from San Diego.

A convention of the State Insurance Agents at El Mirador hotel in Palm Springs helped Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wollcott mix business with pleasure with a stay at the Hastings Garland apartment. Mr. Wollcott is the group's former past president. The Wollcott children, DeDe, Wendy and Chris and friend, Alice Stewart, also enjoyed the Garland hospitality and the Sandpiper way-of-life.

New Sandpiper fourth unit owner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry King have their first visitor, Frank Land of Kansas City. Mr. King is with International Paper and left the chilly midwest for a California business and pleasure trip just ahead of the big blizzard.

Palm Desert real estate man Jack Pollard and his wife hosted LaMirada friends, Canine and Bill Goldlove over the weekend. Mr. Goldlove is a retired Naval commander and is now with Northrop Aviation. During their desert stay the Goldloves attended the annual dinner of the Southwest Aviation Commandry at the Racquet Club.

Anxious to occupy his just purchased fourth unit cottage, Guy Warren of Hollywood was the guest at the George M. Holstein III apartment. Warren, former Detroit and Los Angeles area advertising agency man with Hixson Jorgensen, Cole - Fischer and Rogow and others, has retired to the Sandpiper tranquility to write.

Santa Ana's popular Mayor Al Hall and his wife were also on hand at the Sandpiper apartment where they were the guests of the Lee Finleys. Mayor Hall played golf and visited his long time desert friend, Admiral B. O. Wells of Palm Springs. The Santa Ana "chief" was the second Orange County mayor to visit Sandpiper in recent weeks. Mayor George Meinhardt of Westminster enjoyed the desert sunshine several days ago.

Also from Santa Ana were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cox and their children, Mary Ann and Buddy and friends, the Monroes. Mr. Cox heads the Orange County heavy construction concern, Cox Brothers.

Last Tuesday the Sandpiper ladies held their first of every other week coffees with prizes donated by the Sandpiper's famous decorator, Vee Nisely of Rancho Mirage. Winners were Mrs. Vaughn Edgar, Mrs. Kirk Steinert, Mrs. Clarence Weintraut and Miss Dorothy Root.

Heading into the 35 degree temperatures of pretty Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bellamy as they set out for a White Christmas this week.

With the Red Browns back "home" at the Sandpiper from their Bel Air summer stay, a dinner party guesting Mr. and Mrs. William Walker and Mr. and Mrs. William Seiders was just about the first order of business. Both Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Seider are former screen stars and better known as Ellen Drue and Marion Nixon. Mr. Seider, of course, is famed as one of Hollywood's leading directors for many years.

Palm Desert made the national scene again last week... at least in a way, as True Magazine's latest edition features an exciting tale of legendary "Death Valley Scotty," with striking illustrations by one of the nation's leading magazine illustrators, Bruce Bomberger. Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bomberger of the Sandpiper.

APPOINTMENT OF AFL-CIO legal counsel Arthur J. Goldberg, right, to the post of secretary of labor in President-elect John F. Kennedy's rapidly-rising administration was declared Thursday by Kennedy. Goldberg becomes the second labor secretary to be plucked from the union movement by a Democratic president in the department's 47-year-history. (UPI Telephoto)

Blythe Council Seeks Okeh of Big Annexation

The Blythe city council petitioned the Board of Supervisors this week to approve annexation to the city of its 100-acre sewer farm south of but not contiguous to the city's southern boundary. A hearing was set for Jan. 9 at 10 a.m.

County Counsel Ray Sullivan, Jr., observed that the only other time a city sought to annex city-owned property not contiguous to its incorporated area, the Board of Supervisors denied the request. That was in 1936 when Hemet sought to annex three parcels used for garbage disposal, sewage disposal, and domestic water storage.

Only in the case of city-owned property can non-contiguous property be annexed. The effect is to remove the land from the tax rolls. Improvements on city-owned property outside the city are not taxable. In the case of the proposed district Sullivan said the present assessed valuation of the land is $2,930. This would mean a loss to the county of approximately $200 annually.

The supervisors have the discretion to determine whether or not the property may be annexed following the hearing. Sullivan pointed out that approval of such an annexation would be the setting of a precedent.

Ughl NORTH PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — Antonio Pate, who recently celebrated his 100th birthday, apparently has a stronger stomach than most people at his age.

Pate has a fondness for a dish not seen very often — pizza covered by a pint of ice cream.
